Ex Treasury Henry Bates has had another ineffectual trial for embezzling the public funds. It is openly charged that the jury was a packed one—the Sheriff having been allowed to select a number of Bates' friends and former associates, instead of drawing the names of the jurymen from a box, as is provided by law. Since the result of this second trial Bates has been granted a change of venue, on the ground that the people of Sacramento have been biased against him by the press. The case has been transferred to Placer county. While the trial was in progress, the editor of the Sacramento Bee having indulged in some severe strictures upon the manner in which the Jury had been empanned, was cited by the presiding Judge, Heard, to appear and answer for contempt. After confinuing the case once or twice, Judge Heard finally concluded to recede, and discharged the editor without ponishment

The miners in some parts of the State are becoming greatly disatisfied at the presence of Chinsmen. Those in the neighborhood of San Andras, Calaveras county, lately met together and passed resolutions that after six months no Chinsman should be allowed to work in that neighborhood, either as the holder of a claim or employe of another for wages. A similar feeling is beginning to spread in other sinning districts.

The Indians on some of the reservations in this State have made great improvements in the arts of civilization and industry. This is particularly the case with the Indians at the Nome Lackee Reservation. There, it is stated, the Indians, with the assistance of two white men, have seeded 5this fall about 300 acres of Eand; and before the season is over, will have 2,000 acres of ground under cultivation, the proceeds of which will afford a bountiful supply for the Indians now upon the Reserve.

The stamp act has so far operated very well. The total issue of stamps has amounted to $101,104.56. The sales have lately failer off, owing to the fact that our bankers generally send coin to the east instead of exchange. Financial Affairs.

heavy, but we can hardly think will equal this by the sasteamer.

Rates for money upon merchandise loans range from 2 a 2½ per cent, and for paper 2½ a 3 per cent per month. Nothing is doing upon real estate securities. The tightness in money matters is a good deal aggravated by the difficulty experienced in negotiating private bills upon the East. We understand that Whalers' bills have sold as loans 10 per cent discount.

Bars have been in very active demand for the last few days, and as we write 880 fine are readily saleable at \(\frac{1}{2} \), and 900 and upwards \(\frac{1}{2} \) a \(\frac{1}{2} \) per cent discount. From present indications it is not at all unlikely that 880 will be sold to morrow at par. The refusal of two banking houses to draw exchange on the East in consequence of the difficulties there causes an increase of individual shipments. Last mail some bankers asked 4 per cent for sight exchange on New York, psyable there in coin, or 3 per cent for bills payable in currency; but Measrs. Wells, Fargo & Co. made no change from the former rate of 3 per cent, and as they do the same for this mail we make no change in our quotation below.

The United States Branch Mint was re-opened for the transaction of business on the 23d ultimo, and has been in active operation since. Had it remained closed for several weeks longer, business would have suffered materially from a threatened scarcity of coin, which, commanding according to advices a premium in New York, became more desirable as a remittance than bars, except the latter could be bought at an unusual discount.

Two successive mails have now reached us from New York, and brought the gratifying intelligence that amid the failures and suspensions of old catablished and generally reputed staunch houses in the East, no firms connected with the California trade have stopped payment. Their engagements have been met promptly as they matured, in hard money, and we have every confidence that they will continue to be. Our State bonds, we notice, have advanced 10 per cent since the panic commenced, while other State securities have declined 15 to 20 per cent. Verily, with two millions of gold from us fortnightly, which will ere long enable Wall street to redeem its notes in specie, our Eastern friends will begin to think better of us, and seriously think it advisable, without longer delay, to bring themselves into closer communication, by an iron track across the continent, with their Pacific cousins, who can be of such opportune assistance in the hour of need.

The brig Emma, Captain Zenas Bent, which left Honolulu under charter for Fanning's Island last July, returned on the 24th October with about eighty tons occoanut oil, which was pressed in about two months time. Fanning's Island harbor is in north latitude 3 degrees 49 minutes, and west longitude 159 degrees 20 minutes, and is on one of the many circular islands which abound in the Pacific ocean. It produces little eise but occoanute, of which there is an abundance, and the settlers are constantly planting more. About a year ago the manieus grass of the Sandwich Islands was introduced there, and grows well. Capt. Bent left on the island six cows and a bull, and a few sheep, which, it is thought, will prove of great use to the settlers. Mr. Henry English is the "proprietof", and with his few white companions and see hundred and fifty natives from a neighboring island, may be considered a possessed of quite a "pretty property." At the prices realized from the last lot of oil brought from there—fifty cents per gallon—the present cargo of the Emma is worth $10,000; besides which she took to Tabiti, for sale there, some forty tons. The British flag, we understand, has been raised on Fanning's Island, a formal possession having been taken by the British authorities. Captain English owns the island, having purchased it from previous owners, and the protectorate of the English flag gives additional guarantee to his rights.

On September I, in Shanter Bay, John Canning, a native of Sag Harbor, I. L. first officer of the brig Hawaii, of Honolulu, and three Hawaiian seamen, were killed by a loose whale coming up under and striking the boat in which they were fast to another whale. The two remaining men who were in the boat, also Hawaiians, escaped unhurt.

A letter from Gitman & Co., dated Lahaina, October 19, gives the following particulars in relation to the loss of the whale ship Indian Chief. Capt. Baker, of the Ocean Wave, from the Arctic, reports the loss, on August 25, of the ship Indian Chief. Capt. Huntley, by the staving of the bow of the ship by a cake of ice. The shock was so light that it was not thought to be serious. The Captain, however, gave orders to try the pumps, and found that the ship was filling fast, and had barely time to take to the open boats. The ship had five hundred and sixty barrels of oil stowed down this season, and was boiling out at the time of the accident, and went down with "hot pots." The Captain, first and second officers and men, after being exposed some three days in the boats in very inclement weather, succeeded in reaching Plover Ray. The Captain thinks that the third mate's boat must have been lost, as he was not a very energetic man, and it required all the energy of the Captain and officers to keep the men alive; when they were not rowing, they were kept pounding one another to keep up the circulation and drive off the stupor caused by the cold weather. Capt. Huntley and officers went on board the brig Oahu, where they were when the Ocean Wave left the Fox Islands, September 23.

PERU.

Another revolution in Lima has just been nipped in the bud, and the pucipal persons connected with it have been arrested, and at three o'clock on the morning of the 20th inst. General Castilis and several others were brought to Callao and sent on board the government steamer Ucayali, previous to their being sent out of the country. General Castilio has, for a long time, been a prisoner in Lima, and when he was removed from his room there was found a pistol, (revolver) and a sword concealed. The government have already chartered a vessel to convey them to Mexico—she is now lying with her sails loosed, waiting for the prisoners to be brought on board. The boast of our government, that Americans abroad shall be protected, is now very likely to be put to the test in consequence of the authorities in Callao prohibiting foreign mechanics from working at their respective trades (those connected with the shipping interest) unless they renounce their allegiance and embrace that of Peru, upon doing which they are immediately compelled to de military duty. As the majority of these mechanics are American, Minister. He has taken the matter in hand, but as yet very little progress has been made. Every day to enforce his demands against this farce of a government. Our advices from the South are very meagre, but as far as the revolutionists are concerned, important. The allied protectoriae has expired by limitation, and we may very reasonably suppose that the Chinchs Islands are again in the power of Vivanco. Scarcely a difficulty that American ships get into that they are not compelled to apply to English or French ships of war for assistance. Put that in your republican pipes and smoke it. Our navy is too small to even assist our commerce—God help us when they have to defend it. As yet the ship is tight, and may be got off. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MONEY MARKET.

SUNDAY, Dec. 27-6 P. M. The dull season for all kinds of business is fairly upon us. A holiday generally deranges all business operations for the week. In money matters all is at loose ends. In the stock market no one seems disposed to buy or sell. Contracts on time, both buyers' and sellers' option, are avoided, and the principal object appears to be to close up accounts and wait for the coming of better times. The result looked for is liquidation, and when the movement is general the probability is that in no very great length of time there will be almost a universal release from obligations. Where no new contracts are entered into, where every one is looking to the settlement in some way of old debts, it follows that, sooner or later, all must be free and in a position to retire, or start again new. This is now the order of the day, and the good work is progressing favorably. There probably are no people in the world better able to adapt themselves to the circumstances of the time than those of this country, and to this we can attribute the rapid recovery that almost invariably follows our financial and commer cial revulsions. Years of extravagance and specula tion will be followed by the most rigid economy and contraction, and in this way the mistakes and follies of a long period are overcome in a short time by the nature and extent of the remedy applied. It is with ns no half-way measure. It is carried to the utmost in every thing connected with the daily operations of life. It is estimated that the economy practised by the community at large since the setting in of the present financial revulsion, has been equal to a saving of more than a million of dollars a day. This must, in time, make up for a great deal of extravagance. It must, however, be borne in mind that we have several hundred millions of dollars of actual losses to make up. In the depreciation of railroad and other securities several hundred millions of value have been wiped out as effectually as with a sponge, and the vacuum has to be made good in some way. The enormous and universal investments in railroad bonds and stock by business men, and the sudden collapse in the credit of the compa nies issuing these securities, are the origins causes of the revulsion. This is the simple fact, and no more. Railroad securities, which in June and July last were valued at one thousand millions of dollars, are not worth now, on an average, fifty cents on the dollar. The public generally owned these bonds and stocks. Men in business having payment-to make at stated periods, looked upon their railroad securities as being available at any moment, at their full cost, at least, and they depended upon the proceeds of the sale of these securities to meet their promissory notes at maturity. Now let us look at the result. Instead of these securities being available at the proper time, at their cost or par value, they were worth no more than so much brown paper. For weeks they were actually unsaleable at any price. The effect of this is seen in the numerous large fallures. The suspension of many heavy concerns from the utter annihilation of value in their railroad assets, spread to concerns not so directly connected with this great interest, and the failures in this way extended. From this country it is fast spreading over Europe. The bubble was stock investments, and when that burst it ruined thousands who had been unwise enough to place their property in such poor representatives. It is folly to talk about defective banking systems, credit systems, paper currency and specie currency, as being the cause; for in all the commercial countries where the revulsion has extended all sorts of systems, paper currency and specie currency, as being the cause; for in all the commercial countries where the revulsion has extended all sorts of systems, credit systems, paper currency and specie currency, as being the cause; for in all the commercial countries where the revulsion has extended all sorts of systems. The market was steady, with sales of about 100 blbs, as 7c a 145c, with a small lots at 65c, a 65c. for shoulders, and 120 de. systems, paper currency and specie currency, as being the cause; for in all the commercial countries where the revulsion has extended, all sorts of systems exist. In places on the continent, where the strictest specie currency exists, the convulsion has been the strongest and the most disastrous. Everything in the shape of a financial and commercial system has given way before the revulsion, and it has actually in this country had the effect of turning the government system of finance from a specie into a paper currency. Theorists are all at fault, which is generally the case when the practical operation of

of any system is demonstrated.

The stock market closed yesterday very heavy.

There is no movement of consequence in any security. The little expansion produced in one or two of the leading railroad stocks by the different cliques of bull speculators has disappeared, and left them weaker than ever. In nearly every instance where dividend day with the railroad companies has come along the payment has either been passed altogether or the rate of dividend reduced. The New York Central Railroad Company is in the market for a loan of $500,000, but it has not been announced that it was wanted for the dividend. The money may be wanted for some other purpose even more urgent than the dividend. In the New York Central report for 1856 we find an investment of $421,150 in Buffalo and State Line Railroad stock. In the report for 1857 we find an investment of $557,800 in the same railroad stock. Here is an increase of $136,650 in the year. This may be a transfer from some unfor tunate holders, who, upon ascertaining there would be no dividend, saddled the Central Company with it. In Erie the tendency is downward. The interest on the 1862 bonds, due January, will not be paid. These are not a mortgage issue. Michigan Southern is gradually settling back to the lowest points. The new loans made by this company have piled an additional burden on the old stock, and its position now is perfect ly hopeless. There are reports in the street that the Reading Railroad Company will pass its January dividend. The La Crosse and Milwaukie Railroad Company have just completed some very important financial arrangements. It has sold the Watertown division for $1,000,000 to the Madison, Fond du Lac and Michigan Railroad Company. This company have also taken the Madison and Portage City line, and will complete it upon the land grant applying to that section. The road from New Lisbon to the junction, twenty-one miles, is to be completed by Mr. Chamberlain ready for the iron for $350,000 land grant bonds. The iron for the entire line is now at Milwaukie and paid for. The January coupons of the farm mortgage bonds will soon be paid. There appears to be now very little doubt that the road will be completed to La Crosse by the fall of another year. The movement in stocks of Western railroads has for some days been limited. The money market continues easy. Any amount offers on call at five and six per cent. The banking movement for the week will not show much change. The specie reserve has without doubt reached its maximum point, and we must now look for a reduction from week to week. The exportation of specie it is hoped will continue active, so that we can reduce the present large supply and aid the money markets of Europe. The exportation of specie from this port last week was as follows:-Bark Cere Bremen, do. Thaiers.....

Southampton, sov'ns... Total for the week..... $2,676,295 92

Total, 1857......844,398,296 20 Our banks may not in their next weekly state ments show a decrease in the specie reserve, but the supply in the country is diminishing from foreign shipments.

Financial Affairs.

San Francisco, Dec. 4, 1857.

The demand for money remains about the same, that is to say pretty active, the requirements from parties in the fast who have connections here creating the demand. The manner in which such calls are responded to is evidenced by the shipment of the 20th of November, which was the largest, with a single exception, that was ever made from here. The shipment on Saturday will also be heavy, but we can hardly think will equal that by the last steamer.

News from the Sandwich Islands.

We have dates from the Sandwich Islands to Nov. 7.
The Honolulu papers say that the arrival of whalers at that port had been larger this year than last, owing to the large number of vessels cruising in the Kodiach and Bristol Bay grounds. On the 5th November there were, in Honolulu, sixty-four vessels—of which fifty were whalers. The number of arrivals at all the ports in the Sandwich Islands had been one hundred—and the average for this season's catch is estimated at eight hundred and fifty barrels. The American clipper John Land was to sall for New Bedford on the 7th November. She had on board the most valuable cargo ever despatched from Honolulu—being valued at 953,556—consisting of oil, whalebone and sundries.

Her Britannic Majesty's steamship Vixen, 19 days from Nukahiva, having left Callao on August 26, arrived at Honolulu on the 21st of October. Admiral Bride had gone to Valparaiso to await the arrival of the new Admiral of the British Pacific squadron, who was shortly expected from Epgland—The Vixen reported that the Magicienne had gone to Valparaiso to await the arrival of the new Admiral of the British Pacific squadron, who was shortly expected from Epgland—The Vixen reported that the Magicienne had gone to Fanama, and the Retribution to Callao. The Vixen was expected to remain on the Sandwich Island station for some time, and would probably visit Hile. She carries six heavy guns—one ten inch, one eight inch, two thirty-two's, and two twenty-four's. G. H. Mescham is commander. On October 23, Her Britannic Majesty's surveying steamer Plumper left Honolulu for Vancouver's Island.

steamer for Havana, thence to the United States, It is to be hoped a conventional treaty may be entered into to settle all claims by American citizens against Venezuela, as has been done with New Granada, by commissioners to be appointed by the respective governments. There are claims of thirty years' standing for depredations committed against American citizens, and at different periods since that time, which will take a hundred years to have them adjusted by diplomatic agents, when the whole might be adjudicated in six months by commissioners.

Sener Jacinto Gutierrez, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has been authorized to make a new treaty with the Charge d'Affaires of France.

A treaty between the United States and Venezuela was ratified at Washington during the last session of Congress, and by the Congress of Venezuela in May last, but as yet President Monagas has not signed the act passed by Congress to make it a law, or at least it is not known at the United States Legation, and no exchange of treaties has taken place.

The Venezuelan Congress does not meet, under the new constitution, until the lat of February.

Personal Intelligence.

The Albany Reening Journal learns on the best authority that the whole story of the reported intended marriage between Prince Sulkowsky, who resides in Northern New York, and Lola Montez, is without foundation, and for the best of reasons, viz.: the Prince has a wife and fire children.

The Albion announces that ex-Consul Asthony Barclay returned to this country in the Canada. He has retired from the service of the British Foreign Office on a pension.

Lacy Stone refuses to pay her taxes at Orange, N. Y., on the old Revolutionary principle of "no taxation without representation," and the collector is about to levy on her goods.
